NOTES IN SEASON.

SMALL, MAYNARD & Co. will publish on August 28 the first novel by a well-known contributor to magazines, Robert Alexander Wason, entitled "Happy Hawkins."

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready a new volume of verses, entitled "The Blushful South and Hippocrene," by Robert Loveman, the Georgian poet, who has won high rank among American lyric poets by his charming little volumes, "A Book of Verses," "Gates of Silence" and "Songs from a Georgia Garden."

HENRY HOLT & COMPANY will publish in the fall "The Life of the Honorable Mrs. Norton," by Jane Grey Perkins. All lovers of Meredith will be interested to learn that Mrs. Norton was thought by many to have been the original of the novelist's wonderful heroine of "Diana of the Crossways." The book will contain many portraits of the noted contemporaries of Mrs. Norton.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready "A Certain Rich Man," the eagerly awaited novel by William Allen White, the distinguished newspaper man. The author portrays conditions and characters of the Middle West, and has produced a truly American novel, full of the vital spirit, good and bad, of the American people. He has seen what he describes and tells the story with simple realism.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN Co. are issuing this week, in a limited edition, a volume entitled "1872: Letters Written by a Gentleman in Boston to His Friend in Paris, Describing the Great Fire," with introductory chapters by Harold Murdock. This book, with its forty or more illustrations from woodcuts of the period, is of considerable historic interest, and its publication has been eagerly awaited, after several unavoidable delays.

THE JOHN LANE COMPANY has just published a volume entitled "Wheel Magic," an account of a trip in rural England, by J. W. Allen. A trip in the country, whether on foot, on a bicycle or in an automobile, has always a peculiar charm. This charm the literary man endeavors to interpret for those who are unable to express the sensations they themselves have felt, or who have not experienced the pleasure of the author's favorite mode of travel. Stevenson wrote in praise of walking and of "Travels With a Donkey," while Mr. Allen gives the reflections of a bicyclist in rural England who has journeyed with an open mind, as well as along an open road.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY will publish early in the fall "Cardillac," by Robert Barr, a romance of France under Louis XIII., which will prove popular with the many readers who watch so eagerly for Mr. Barr's short stories. This is a long novel. The house will also bring out a book of A. W. Dimock's which has not yet received its title. It will relate the adventures of two boys in the Everglades, and its great feature will be the illustrations from photographs by Julian A. Dimock, which portray leaping tarpon, wildcats, alligators, rattlesnakes, forest fires and many scenes of hunting, fishing, exploring and canoeing, all of the most intense interest to healthy boys.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY

American Educational List, 1909

This List plans to include all textbooks used in American schools and academic institutions (not in universities, professional or technical schools) and books prepared especially for supplementary reading in primary and grammar schools; also classical and foreign texts, annotated for schools, officially recommended for school use, and such English texts as are required for college entrance examinations, 1909-15. Entries are under authors or editors; classical texts are entered under editor's name, foreign and English texts under author's name with editor's name in parenthesis. For revised subject classification, and for collective reference to classical authors entered under editors, see the second part of this List, following the main alphabet. The List does not include other English texts (except comprehensive school editions of Shakespeare); works of reference for schools (except dictionaries); nor teachers' aids (except teachers' manuals forming part of a textbook series). It is also intended to exclude imported textbooks, except such as are printed with American imprint or sold here in class quantities.

The List omits works out of print or superseded by newer editions, or works obsolete in the sense of being no longer sold in quantities for class introduction, but only in indwidual copies to schools having the book already in use. For such works see the American Educational List of previous years.

The price given is the "net" or introduction price made by the publisher (with close trade discount only), for which a copy is sent to a teacher or bookseller postpaid. Where an additional mailing charge is made for postage on single copies, an asterisk (*) precedes the price. Books priced at retail, with regular trade discount, are designated by a dagger (†) in the price column. When there is a blank in price column the publisher failed to give information. A double asterisk () designates books forthcoming and yet unpriced. New books issued since List of 1908 are designated by a single asterisk before title.

☞ Be particular in ordering to specify edition, and to give the full name of the book as entered in this List.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION

For the American Educational List, 1909.

This classification is in seventeen main classes shown by center headings in BLACK FACE CAPS: Art, Business training, Economics and civics, Examinations, Geography, History, Kindergarten, Language, Literature, Mathematics, Music, Mythology, Penmanship, Philosophy, Physical training, Reading and elocution, and Science, divisions of these being shown by black face lower case, and subdivisions by SMALL CAPS. The index below shows under which of the main heads any specific subject may be sought, except that self-evident references, as from French language to Language, are not given.

The names refer to the preceding author list, where prices, publishers, etc., are entered.

Supplementary reading will be found under Reading and elocution (Readers) or as a division under other classes. Where such subdivisions as "complete," "elementary," and "higher" are used, books are placed under them only if so designated by publishers. Otherwise they may be found under the larger division. Series are entered only under "complete."

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 24, 1909.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

STANDARDIZATION IN EDUCATION.

THE close of the nineteenth century reached the "high-water mark" of differentiation in education. For many years the specialization of knowledge had been coming on apace, and this was reflected in our colleges and to some extent in the schools by professors or instructors who dealt with specific subdivisions of knowledge, and by the elective or go-as-you-please selection of studies by the individual student. Of this trend President Eliot of Harvard was the leading apostle, and doubtless he did good service in breaking away from old traditions and opening to the student mind new fields of knowledge. Colleges and schools vied with each other in inviting the young mind to choose its own lines of study and offered a most tempting variety of courses, as for example such "softs" as patristic Greek at Harvard, which, under Professor Sophocles of happy memory, was a favorite field for evading the culture of the mind by the young athletes who preferred the cultivation of the body.

It is interesting to note the inevitable reaction against this method, or lack of method, in education, which has been brought into public recognition in the lines of policy outlined by the new President of Harvard. He is politely but firmly setting himself against the abuse of the principle for which President Eliot stood, a principle which however sound in some respects certainly invited abuse.

His policy is not the only evidence of the fact that the educational community is waking up to the fact that a man or a boy does not become an educated person by studying a few subjects of his own choice. His elders or preceptors must again take up the task of deciding what is necessary for an all-round education in view of the general development of an educated mind, as well as the aiming of the individual for his special work. For the last few years there has been also a definite tendency on the part of colleges and schools to adopt common standards for entrance examinations, and one of the most noteworthy features of our educational list of late years has been a standardized list of college entrance examinations in English, which has been adopted by an increasing number of colleges, until now there is practical unanimity. In like manner, for examples, the Regents' examinations throughout the State of New York have standardized and unified methods and, to some extent, the choice of books.

Much of this comes about through the influence of the organizations of teachers and professors and their more frequent meetings and consultations. The National Education Association has now become a body of immense membership and influence, and its annual national conferences attract almost as many people as the nominating conventions of the great political parties. While this and like associations may not deal directly with standardization, their influence in this direction has nevertheless been great.

Whether this will have any special result with respect to educational publishing is a matter of question. Publishers have provided text-books for every division of knowledge, and it may be that they also have specialized overmuch. Nevertheless there are good books, though perhaps not too many of them, which cover general subjects in a general way, affording to the general student an adequate but not too detailed knowledge of the subdivisions of the general subject.

We wish we could say that there is some standardization in the nomenclature of school books; but this is not the case. It is almost impossible for any one to judge from the title of a text-book just what its place is in the graded system. An "Introduction to Biology," for example, may mean an elementary "first lesson" kind of book for children or a comprehensive treatise for college students. In the case of geographies the confusion of titles is simply exasperating. A "complete geography" may mean a geography comprehensive for all grades, or one intended exclusively for higher grades, or one intended exclusively for higher grades of school work. This is one of the serious perplexities in the making of our annual educational list; at the same time it is a proof of the necessity for such a list.

Variety is the spice of life and competition is the life of trade, so the proverbs say. Educational publishing has certainly both variety and competition; but we should be glad to see it making more definite progress in the direction of standardization.

THE TEST OF POOR WRITING.

The Rev. Samuel McChord Crothers, in his article in the May Atlantic on "The Hundred Worst Books," says one of the difficulties in writing on this subject is "that the habit of making collections of books on the ground of their worthlessness is not common, and the collector meets many discouragements from those who do not appreciate his point of view. . . . A book that awakens prejudice can have no place in the list of the Hundred Worst. A book that belongs there awakens nothing. The test of really poor writing is that it produces no mental reactions." The particular volume which Mr. Crothers chooses to illustrate what a book ought not to be is a little treatise on "Our Domestic Fowls," published by the London Religious Tract Society, in which sound theology and chicken raising are hopelessly mixed and the relation of patriarchs to poultry has evidently caused the author much mental anguish, as it affords the reader unrighteous mirth.

PROFESSOR NEWCOMB'S LIBRARY TO BE SOLD.

THE executor of the estate of the late Professor Simon Newcomb offers for sale his complete library of books and pamphlets on astronomy, mathematics and allied subjects. During the working years of his life it has has been his policy to possess for himself, so far as circumstances allowed, the books necessary in his work. As years passed on it seemed to him that the collection would prove to be of permanent scientific value, and he therefore enlarged it by the addition of books which he did not need at the time, but which he deemed most useful to the future investigator, especially the student of scientific history. It has been his hope that his library would help in the training of some future great scientist, or in his work. This being his motive, he was especially anxious that the library should not be divided, but should belong to some institution in which astronomical and kindred branches of research are carried on.

With this end in view, the value of the library is estimated at only $7000, which is the estimated cost of the purchased books alone, although the number of transactions of societies and other gift-books, together with the many thousand pamphlets, form a very considerable portion of the value of the library.

There are nearly 4000 volumes and about 4000 pamphlets in the library. The pamphlets are all classified and arranged for easy reference, and include reprints of memoirs of astronomy, mathematics and physics. In round numbers 1000 volumes are complete sets of publications of learned societies and observatories. Among these is a complete set of Crelle's journal. There are between 75 and 100 catalogues of precision (star-places). The library is especially rich in all branches of astronomy, including popular works, history of astronomy, ancient astronomy, mathematical astronomy, astrophysics, stellar astronomy and photographic astronomy. The large number of volumes on celestial mechanics, including the works of the most celebrated writers, is worthy of special mention. The bulk of the library is of course on astronomy and mathematics, the former predominating, but there are also several hundred volumes on physics, geography and meteorology, and many of the transactions cover general science. It is believed that this is the most complete library of its kind in America, except, perhaps, that at Harvard University and including the Harvard Observatory library. Besides these there are probably 1000 more volumes as yet uncatalogued.

A typewritten catalogue of the library has been prepared under Professor Newcomb's personal direction, in which the works are classified approximately on the system now current in catalogues of astronomical literature. This will be sent to any one contemplating purchase of the collections as a whole by the executor of the estate, Mrs. Anita Newcomb McGee, 1620 P Street, Washington, D. C.

DR. ELIOT DEFENDS HIS "5-FOOT SHELF."

PRESIDENT EMERITUS CHARLES W. ELIOT, of Harvard, comes strongly to the defense of his "five-foot shelf of books" in a letter to the editors of Collier's Weekly, to be published this week.

Dr. Eliot says he is convinced from the recent discussions in the press and in private conversation that his selection of a library which will give a man reading its volumes ten minutes a day a liberal education has not been correctly understood. He says also that the list which has been published was given out without his knowledge and is incomplete and inaccurate.

This is the letter:

ASTICOU, ME., July 10, 1909.

GENTLEMEN: It was your desire and purpose to publish a carefully selected library which, if conscientiously read, would make of the judicious and ambitious reader a cultivated man, and it was this educational purpose which interested me in your undertaking.

The recent discussions in the public press and in private conversation over "the five-foot shelf of books" satisfy me that the project has not been correctly apprehended in some quarters. The incomplete and inaccurate list which appeared in the newspapers a few weeks ago was published without my knowledge, and gives an erroneous impression of the project. At this date, not more than half of the books have been decided on.

The volumes which I undertook to select are intended to give faithful readers who know no language but English a true picture of man's imaginings and reasonings through more than twenty centuries. They must all be works of high literary merit, and must illustrate well the mental and moral history of mankind. While the collection will inevitably contain much philosophy and religion which the twentieth century does not accept, it should demonstrate that much of the present stock of available wisdom has long been at the service of educated men.

To depict the "Stream of the World," the collection must contain worthy representatives of both the ancient literatures and the great National literatures which have been created since the revival of letters; so that the proportions of the different literatures have to be carefully considered. Many famous books are unavailable because too long—that is, they would occupy a disproportionate space in the series.

The collection cannot represent largely the natural science of the nineteenth century, or give much space to the current thought of to-day, because these recent acquisitions of the race have, for the most part, not yet been cast in durable literary form.

The Bible and Shakespeare are omitted because these books are within the reach of most Americans who read at all.

Very truly yours.

CHARLES W. ELIOT.

SLOT MACHINES FOR BOOKS.

THE long-prophesied is about to be realized, namely, a mechanical device for selling books, or, rather, a mechanical newsstand assistant. According to the London correspondent of the New York Times, Frank Russak arrived in London from Paris on July 17 "with the object of starting a company to exploit a French invention for which Mr. Russak holds the patent rights in Europe and America. The idea has points of interest both for authors and publishers, for it concerns the distribution of their wares in a novel fashion. It is the application of a penny-in-the-slot machine to what is generally described as ephemeral literature.

"Mr. Russak believes that there is a large public which will be eager to hire a book for a few hours' reading, provided they do not have to trouble to go to a circulating library and can lay their hands upon what they want just when it is wanted.

"The machines will hold ten or a dozen books, displaying their titles so they can be read without being removed from the case, which opens only when a certain coin is put in one slot as the price of hire, and another coin is put in another slot as the price of the book in the event it is not returned.

"If Mr. Russak can get capital together and make arrangements with publishers, he will distribute these machines in hotels, trains, seaside resorts, and everywhere there is likely to be a demand for books to while away an hour or two. Mr. Russak is so enamored of the scheme that he can see none of its obvious difficulties."

SUIT OVER AN $85,000 EDITION OF DICKENS.

In a suit brought by the University Press Company of Boston, Mass., against Mary J. Hoxie, in the Chicago courts, to recover $35,000 alleged to be due on promissory notes, it appeared that these notes were executed as a part payment on a contract which she made to pay $85,000 for a set of 130 volumes of Dickens's works published by George D. Sproul.

The answer in the suit set forth that George D. Sproul about seven years ago made a contract with Mary J. Hoxie to deliver to her 130 volumes of the works of Charles Dickens to be lavishly illustrated and printed.

It was also alleged that five volumes of the set were delivered, but that they were not as described by Sproul, and that the defendant refused to accept the remainder of the books.

The answer also set forth that Sproul then told Mrs. Hoxie that he would substitute for the books thirteen illuminated tablets of the Declaration of Independence, illustrated by Nestor Leoni. Sproul, it is said, told Mrs. Hoxie that the tablets were worth at least $125,000. and that negotiations for their disposal for $200,000 were pending with the Corcoran Art Gallery at Washington. Mrs. Hoxie has never seen the tablets, and upon her application to the Chicago courts B. Benjamin Savage was appointed a commissioner to take testimony in New York City and examine the tablets to ascertain their value.

The tablets had been put in Sproul's safe deposit box at the Garfield Trust Company, in New York, which first refused to allow the box to be opened in response to a subpoena on the ground that the company had a lien of $140 on the box's contents for rent. An order requiring the trust company to show cause why it should not obey the subpoena was then obtained, and through this the story came out.

Mrs. Hoxie alleges fraud and deceit on the part of Sproul in her transaction with him, that the books were not of the quality as stated by him, and that the statement that John Pierpont Morgan was to have the first set and was behind the proposition was false. She further alleges that in place of the books being worth $85,000 if actually issued as described, they would hardly be worth more than $1000.

An affidavit has been made by Theodore L. De Vinne to the effect that the parchment used in the books is of a poor grade, that the bands on the backs are false, the leather poor, being of morocco instead of French levant as was supposed. Other affidavits were submitted stating that the books were probably worth about $50 apiece instead of $750, the price paid by Mrs. Hoxie.

The value of the tablets will be passed upon by experts. They are described as being 24 by 30 inches, and upon the face, of what is presumed to be parchment, is printed in gold raised letters the Declaration of Independence. Along the margin are portraits of the Presidents of the United States and various battle scenes of the War of the Revolution.

In connection with the "illuminated tablets" and the book dealings of Sproul is recalled the suicide, in 1905, of Howard T. Goodwin, a confidential clerk of the brokerage firm of Cassett & Co., of Philadelphia. Goodwin, at a salary of $2300 a year, it is said, contracted for the purchase of $285,000 worth of books, and was to pay for them at the rate of $2000 a month. If sold in advance in the meantime the profits were to be divided. When Goodwin had paid $73,000 on the contract his peculations became known to the firm. He shot himself in its office.

This case also recalls the case of Mrs. Abbie B. Blodgett, who is said to have made a contract for the works of Dickens for $130,000, but after paying $24,000 the matter was adjusted without the contract being fulfilled.

Comptroller Metz, of New York, whose name figured as a subscriber for a set of this edition of Dickens sold by Sproul, was brought into the case. Mr. Sproul was not an illuminating witness. In answer to questions by Mrs. Hoxie's lawyer as to whether Comptroller Metz had subscribed for a set of books, and after receiving half a dozen volumes had paid $20,000 to be released from the contract, Sproul would only say: "I decline to answer."

PEACE PLAN FOR PRINTERS.

With the view of establishing friendly relations between capital and labor, in so far as the printing industry is concerned, the New York branch of the Printers' League of America on July 20 issued a call for a convention of printers, bookbinders, electrotypers, stereotypers and manufacturers of printers' supplies to meet in New York September 25 to Octber 9, to organize an association to be known as the National Printers' League of America.

The object of the convention, it is stated in the call, is "to establish a closer bond of union for the common good between what have heretofore been warring factions.

Charles Francis, of No. 30 Broad Street, is chairman of the Convention Committee.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MISS MARIAN M. MONACHESI, for thirty-six years an active member of the staff of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, died on Monday, July 19, after a short illness. Miss Monachesi was in the midst of editorial work on the "Educational List" in this issue when she was taken ill. A proper tribute to her faithful work will appear in our next issue.

THE REV. GEORGE TYRRELL died in London on July 15. Father Tyrrell was for many years a member of the Society of Jesus, but separated from them because of his sympathies with "Modernism," as now taught by many Catholics. In 1907 Father Tyrrell translated from the Italian "The Programme of Modernism: a Reply to the Encyclical of Pius x.," and wrote many critical articles upon this encyclical which so strongly condemned "Modernism." For these he was deprived by the Pope of his right to administer the sacraments.

RUDOLPH LEXOW, the founder and for many years editor of the Criminal Zeitung, a German evening paper, and its successor, the Belletristisches Journal, a German weekly, both published in New York City, that wielded a powerful influence for the Union cause during the war between the states, died on July 16, in his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., aged eighty-eight. Lexow was born in the province of Schleswig-Holstein, and was graduated from the University of Kiel. He took part in the German revolutionary movement of 1848, and when that failed took refuge in this country. Upon his arrival here he went into journalism. He also wrote several books, including a history of the Revolution of 1848 and a history of the war between the states, and novels which were widely read at that time.

ROSA NOUCHETTE CAREY, whose books for young women have been deservedly popular in England and America, died in London on July 19. Miss Carey was the daughter of William Henry Carey. She was born in London and was educated in the Ladies' Institute, St. John's Wood. Nearly all her forty books were love stories, but they were always clean and wholesome and the right sort of reading for the girls just entering into womanhood. The scenes were generally English, and she contrived to describe English manners and customs and drew many scenes from English history also. The book that brought her largest fame was "Robert Ord's Atonement," published in 1873. Her last work will be brought out in September by the Lippincotts, who have published most of her books in the United States. Its title will be "The Key of the Unknown." The best known of her stories are: "Nellie's Memories," "Wee Wifie," "Barbara Heathcote's Trial," "Wooed and Married," "Herriot's Choice," "Queenie's Whim," "Mary St. John," "For Lilias," "Uncle Max," "Only the Governess," "Lover or Friend," "Men Must Work," "The Old, Old Story," "Twelve Notable Good Women," "A Passage Perilous," "No Friend Like a Sister," and "The Angel of Forgiveness."

BUSINESS NOTES.

LAFAYETTE, IND.—On July 1 the stores of Jaques-Mueller Co., handling a full line of miscellaneous books, stationery, office supplies, pictures, etc., and jobbers of school supplies, and the R. M. Southworth Co., handling a full line of text-books and students' supplies, were consolidated. The two stores will be run as formerly under their separate corporate names. George L. Mueller will manage the Lafayette store, while Ray M. Southworth will have the management of the West Lafayette store. Robert L. Jaques will look after the outside trade, and will do the buying for both stores. They have broken ground for a new store at 308-310 State Street, in West Lafayette, which will be 40 x 100, two stories.

MARIETTA, O.—An explosion of fireworks in the Colonial Book Store started a fire that caused $13.000 loss. . Charles Hall, a clerk, jumped fifteen feet from a rear window as the fireworks were exploding against his back. Two firemen were overcome by the intense heat. The loss is estimated at $8000.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—W. H. Parker has removed from his cramped quarters on Chapel Street to 47 High Street, at the corner of Chapel Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—E. S. Gorham, bookseller, will remove to 37 East Twenty-eighth Street.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Andrew Arthur, bookseller, has removed to 332 North Eighth Street.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—W. J. Campbell, bookseller, has removed from Walnut Street to 1623 Chestnut Street.

TOLEDO, O.—The Landman & Blevins Company has succeeded to the retail book and stationery business of the Brown, Eager & Hull Company.

WATERBURY, CONN.—"The Book Haunt," one of the best known places of business in Waterbury, Conn., and for many years conducted by George N. Ells, according to Geyer's Stationer, "will become a part of Waterbury history in February, 1910, when the place of business at 64 Bank Street will be occupied by Louis and Joseph Sugenheimer, of New Haven, who will conduct there a millinery emporium. 'The Book Haunt.' which is at present run by the George N. Ells Company, will either go out of business or secure quarters in some other location in the city. 'The Book Haunt' was the first bookstore to be opened in the city of Waterbury, the first proprietor being William Patton, a character closely linked with Waterbury history in the '40s and '50s. Mr. Patton came to Waterbury to work at his trade of button chasing. His love of reading and literature finally persuaded him to leave the factory, and in 1842 he opened a small store. In 1848 he located in the old Lyceum Building, and connected a book bindery with his store. In 1852 the store was removed to the Arcade, and in 1859 to the Hotchkiss Block. Shortly afterward the store was removed to the present Ells Building, on Bank Street, where the business was carried on by Mr. Patton until 1883. In that year it was sold to George N. Ells, who conducted the Haunt under his name until his death a few years ago. The George N. Ells Company was then organized and the business has been carried on under its management since the death of Mr. Ells."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE BROOKLYN [N. Y.] PUBLIC LIBRARY has brought out a list of the books by and on Alfred Tennyson in the library, with references to periodicals. (20 p. 32°.)

THE FRANKFURTER BÜCHERFREUND, (No. 3,) published by Joseph Baer & Co., Frankfurt a.M., contains an interesting account of stencilled playing cards.

Notes and Queries for July 3 contains the first half of a bibliography of two Scottish publishers, George Miller, of Dunbar, from his son, James Miller, of Haddington, from whom T. Fisher Unwin, (who has prepared the bibliography, whose grandmother was a Miller of the same family,) is descended. They were pioneers in popular literature, publishing in 1813 at fourpence The Cheap Magazine, which had a circulation averaging from 12,000 to 20,000 copies a month.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

A. C. MCCLURG & Co. are sending a copy of their new book, "The Short Stop," by Zane Grey, to each member of the "All-Western Team," in appreciation of their assistance in retaining the baseball championship of the bookmen for the West at the Hinsdale Golf Club, Chicago, Ill., July 9, 1909.

THE JOHN LANE COMPANY will publish a two-volume illustrated edition of "The Last Journals of Horace Walpole," which contains his memoirs of the reign of George III. from 1771 to 1783. The work has been overhauled by A. F. Steuart, who in an introduction tells the story of the secret marriage of Prince William Henry, Duke of Gloucester, to Walpole's niece, Maria, Dowager Countess of Waldegrave.

THE CURTIS ADV. Co., Detroit, Mich., announce two unique books for children in "Danny's Dime Bank Book," a book with a steel bank attachment, to teach the young idea not only how to shoot but how to save its pennies also, "Timothy Trim's Clock," a book with a practical clock dial to teach the young idea time, and the value of time. The two books are the first of a Kidbooks Series that is bound to attract.

DUFFIELD & Co. will publish late in the summer Albert Sonnichsen's "Confessions of a Macedonian Bandit," in which the author of "Ten Months a Prisoner Among the Filipinos," "Deep Sea Vagabonds" and other volumes of personal experience, tells of his adventures in Macedonia as a member of the committee of revolution. While discussing current Balkan events, the book may also serve as a guide to little known spots in Macedonia, the small countries surrounding it and Turkey. The illustrations are from photographs taken by Mr. Sonnichsen.

GEORGE ILES has taken a chapter from his very notable book, "Flame, Electricity, and the Camera," and presents it in pamphlet form as a new argument for evolution. He entitles this pamphlet "Electricity Uncovers a Law of Evolution. "Flame, Electricity and the Camera" was published in 1900. Mr. Iles has thoroughly revised the portion selected and has brought it quite up to date, covering the newest developments in electrical discoveries. The pamphlet begins with man's discovery that he could create flame, and traces in detail every added discovery that has little by little led to the almost magic work accomplished by electricity. Mr. Iles has a clear, terse style of putting things that make complete pictures before the minds of his readers.

D. APPLETON & COMPANY will publish in fall "An Admiral's Log," by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans. This book is a continuation of the Admiral's "A Sailor's Log," and tells the story of the author's career from the year 1899 up to the present time. It thus gives an account of Evans's sojourn in the Philippines; of his visit to China at the time when the allied armies were encamped before Peking, and, at the end, the detailed story of the famous cruise of the Atlantic fleet from Hampton Roads around the world, with the descriptions of the festivities and welcome accorded it in American and foreign ports. The book also contains criticisms and suggestions by Admiral Evans regarding the building and handling of battleships and their crews and equipments, as well as a comparison of American vessels with those of other powers.

SIEGLE, HILL & Co., 2 Langham Place, London, have brought out a German translation of George Meredith's "The Tragic Comedians" under the title of "Die Tragischen Komödianten—eine in betracht gezogene alte Geschichte." Shortly after Helene von Racowitza's work, "Meine Beziehungen zu Ferdinand Lasalle," was published Meredith's "The Tragic Comedians appeared, which in a symbolical form gave his observations on Helene von Racowitza's work. At that time, early in the seventies of the nineteenth century, Miss Ida Louisa Benecke was permitted by the author and his publishers to translate Meredith's work into German. Though her work was completed nearly twenty-seven years ago, it was never printed. Since the translation of Meredith's "The Tragic Comedians," by Julie Sotteck, published a year ago by S. Fischer in Berlin, Miss Benecke, whose mother tongue, by the way, is not German, has been induced to publish her translation. The printed book appeared in April, shortly before Mr. Meredith's death, and the proceeds of its sale will be turned over to the pension fund of the Incorporated Society of Authors. The price of the book is five shillings net. (280 p. 16°.)

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers, under their own names, are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, or those advertising anonymously, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line. All objectionable books will be excluded so far as they come under our notice.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No reduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no account must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash.]

☞ Write your wants plainly, and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay" booksellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

A Work of Permanent Educational Value

FOR

Schools, Colleges, Libraries

OUR PLYMOUTH FOREFATHERS

By CHARLES STEDMAN HANKS

Author of "Hints to Golfers," "Camp Kits and Camp Life"

MR. HANKS, Boston lawyer of high standing, eminent golfer by right of priority and devotion to the "Royal and Ancient game," railroad investigator, and friend of President Roosevelt, was as diverse in his writings as in his accomplishments and avocations. His contribution to Colonial history undoubtedly will take as high rank in its field as did his notable work on golf when it appeared seven years ago. "Our Plymouth Forefathers" bears evidence of the same painstaking care and historical research that characterized all of his literary work. Beginning with the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers from England and their settlement in Holland, the author traces the religious movements of the times that led to the expedition to America. The story of the Plymouth Colony and its relation to those stirring events in our country's earliest history is given with the impressive detail that is devoid of pedantry, while the style is simple, forceful and convincing. The work is extra illustrated with numerous beautiful double-tone plates and has a complete index.

PUBLISHERS BOSTON

HORACE MANN READERS

A new series of basal readers shaped by these controlling ideas: personal interest on the part of children in the doings of children of their own age; personal hunger for stories having continuity, development and variety; and the development of a personal power of satisfying the literary appetite. The stories, dialogues, poems, and other selections, are almost entirely of new material. Richly illustrated.

Now Ready: Primer, 30 cents. First Reader, 30 cents.

Others to follow in due course.

ALEXANDER'S SPELLING BOOK

The Three Important Steps in Learning to Spell Presented in this Speller are: Oral and Written Spelling of Detached Words; Writing of Words in Dictated Sentences; Writing of Words in Original Sentences in Formal Composition. The book is published in two editions: one, syllabicated; the other, not syllabicated.

EITHER EDITION { Complete, 192 pages, illustrated.....25 cents
Part I. for grades 1 to 4.....14 cents
Part II. for grades 5 to 8.....18 cents } EITHER EDITION

LONGMANS' ENGLISH LESSONS

A beginner's book preparatory to Longmans' English Grammar. How to lead children to a free but correct use of English is the aim of this book. 40 cents.

LONGMANS' ENGLISH GRAMMAR

Approaches each step through exercises and illustrations of which there are so many that teachers will always find ample material in this book. 65 cents.

COMPOSITION AND RHETORIC

By CHARLES SWAIN THOMAS, Head of the English Department, Newton (Mass.) High School, and WILL DAVID HOWE, Head of the English Department, Indiana University. 517 pages. Illustrated. $1.20.

SOME IMPORTANT FEATURES

It covers a Four Years' course in English. It contains an unusually large number of Practical Exercises. Oral Composition is treated with fullness. The subject of Theme Correction is fully and carefully considered. Many Illustrations of special interest have been inserted.

WRITING AND SPEAKING

A Text-Book of Rhetoric and Composition. By CHARLES SEARS BALDWIN, A.M., Ph.D., Professor of Rhetoric in Yale University. 450 pages. Crown 8vo. $1.20.

The study of composition is presented here entirely afresh, as deriving its value and its method from constant and consecutive relation to all other studies.

The book is at all points practical, made not to be recited upon, but to be worked with.

LONGMANS' ENGLISH CLASSICS

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

All volumes prescribed for college entrance requirements have been reduced in price to a uniform rate of twenty-five cents a copy.

PRIMER OF SANITATION

By JOHN W. RITCHIE

Of William and Mary College, Virginia

The first and only school textbook of its kind ever published. In a simple way it presents certain facts for the lack of knowledge of which people are dying in every village in the land. It tells the pupils what diseases are caused by germs, and how the germs get into the body. It tells them the best way of fighting these germs. It tells them what each family can do to keep itself free of disease, and also what the community can do to preserve the health of its citizens.

LEADING TEXT BOOKS

FOR THE GRADES

Gulick Hygiene Series

The first thoroughly scientific and modern series of elementary texts on hygiene and physiology—as interesting to pupils as story books.

Wentworth-Smith Arithmetics

Constitute the strongest possible series for those schools that demand a thoroughly modern elementary arithmetic and a strictly topical upper book.

Frye's Geographies

Ex-President Eliot has called these books the best geographies used in the American schools.

The Jones Readers

Unsurpassed in selection of material, careful grading, elevating and instructive influence, illustrations, and mechanical construction.

Montgomery's Histories

Events are presented so that history becomes living and real to the pupil.

Spaulding and Miller's Graded School Speller

A convenient arrangement in a-book-to-a-grade form in which words are presented at the same time in columns and in actual use.

New Educational Music Course

Every problem of sight-singing, voice-training and musical interpretation is illustrated with selections of compelling musical content.

FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Allen & Greenough's Series of Latin Texts

Recognized everywhere as the authorities for scholarly and practical use.

Myers's Histories—Ancient—Mediæval and Modern

These books, in addition to being the standard in America, have been translated into many foreign languages.

Wentworth's Mathematical Series

Stands for exact scholarship, great thoroughness, and the highest utility to the student and teacher.

Millikan and Gale's First Course in Physics

The widespread use and remarkable success of this book are due to its perfect fitness for the day's demand and need.

McPherson and Henderson's Elementary Study of Chemistry

No chance is lost to apply the science to practical life, and special attention is given to the description of modern manufacturing processes.

Hanson's English Composition

For the first year in high school. It offers a refreshing contrast to the usual form of hackneyed composition text.

Bergen's Botanies

The latest and most advanced methods of teaching botany, with a liberal supply of unusually illuminating illustrations.

Circulars and pamphlets describing any of Ginn and Company's publications will be sent postpaid upon application to the nearest office. Correspondence will receive prompt attention.
